HIGHLIGHTS

- Although there was a decrease in the prices of raw materials and biological compound fertilizer products in the second quarter brought by the financial crisis, which created a strong wait-and-see atmosphere in the compound fertilizers market, for the six months ended 30 June 2009, turnover remained largely stable as compared with the corresponding period last year and decreased slightly by 0.54% to RMB244,486,918.
- Gross profit increased by 20.23% from the corresponding period last year to RMB44,726,802.
- For the six months ended 30 June 2009, the consolidated gross profit margin of the Group increased to 18.29%, which was higher than 15.13% recorded in the corresponding period last year. This was mainly attributable to a substantial increase in the gross profit margin of the biological compound fertilizer products produced by the Group's production base in Shandong.
- Loss attributable to the equity holders amounted to approximately RMB519,047, representing a decrease of 32.35% from the loss in the corresponding period in 2008.

Notes:

1. Basis of presentation

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, assuming that the Group will continue to operate as a going concern, notwithstanding the fact that the Group suffered accumulated losses of RMB92,240,748 as at 30 June 2009. The validity of the Group's ability to continue as a going concern depends on the success of the Group's future operations and the ability of the Group to renew or replace the banking facilities as they fall due. The Group's principal banker has confirmed its intention to extend and commit banking facility of up to RMB200 million to the Company. Renewal of this facility will be subject to the bank's normal approval procedures. Consequently, the directors have prepared the unaudited half yearly results for the six months ended 30 June 2009 on the going concern basis.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong, the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the GEM of the Stock Exchange (the "GEM Listing Rules"). The principal accounting policies adopted are consistent with those used in the preparation of the Group's annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2008.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Business Review

For the six months ended 30 June 2009, the Group carried on with its principal businesses of (1) biological compound fertilizer products, including a series of biological compound fertilizer products under the brands of “Fulilong” and “Lvzhou”; and (2) medical and health products, which included a series of health products for diabetics, such as sugar reducing health foods developed in various forms ranging from nutritious noodles, flour to biscuits, as well as a series of products beneficial to the health of the human body, such as sugar-free drinks and sugar-free biscuits.

For the six months ended 30 June 2009, turnover of our medical and health products increased by 37.87% to RMB36,662,392, while the turnover of our biological compound fertilizer products decreased by 5.02%.

The consolidated gross profit margin of the Group increased from 15.13% to 18.29%. Due to an overall increase across the gross profit margins of the Group’s products, the aggregate gross profit of the Group jumped to RMB44,726,802, representing an increase of 20.23% as compared with the corresponding period in 2008.

During the period under review, loss attributable to the shareholders of the Company decreased from RMB767,257 in the corresponding period last year to RMB519,047.

For the six months ended 30 June 2009, approximately 85% of the total turnover was contributed by the sales of biological compound fertilizers, while the remaining was derived from the medical and health products.

Fertilizer products

The adverse impacts of the continuously spreading financial crisis on the agricultural industry and the economy of the rural areas in the PRC have gradually emerged. Since the arrival of spring, the compound fertilizers market has been facing pressures both from the fluctuation in the upstream raw materials market and from the downstream sectors, which were ravaged by a lack of confidence and decrease in demand. 2009 is a year shrouded in uncertainties with respect to the domestic compound fertilizers market. Users’ demand dropped as the consumption of fertilizers for crops in some regions was affected by various natural disasters such as drought and flooding, while the unstable raw material prices have resulted in the fluctuation and fall in the prices of compound fertilizer products. This made the distributors and end-users become more cautious in the purchase of fertilizers and in turn limited the Group’s expansion in the fertilizer products market. Due to a lack of confidence in the market’s prospect, many producers in the PRC started to reduce or simply stopped production. Notwithstanding such market turmoil, the Group adhered to its established strategies and shifted its focus to upholding its position in the existing markets and enhancing sales profit margins.

For the six months ended 30 June 2009, sales of the Group’s fertilizer products amounted to RMB207,824,526. During the six months ended 30 June 2009, the gross profit from the sales of fertilizer products reached RMB27,374,480 (sales gross profit for the six months ended 30 June 2008: RMB24,975,028).

Medical and health products

For the six months ended 30 June 2009, the sales of the Group's medical and health products was RMB36,662,392, representing an increase of approximately 37.87% as compared with the corresponding period last year. The increase in sales was attributable to an increase in the sales of sugar-reducing health foods and sugar-free foods under the "Alpha" brand. The gross profit margin of "Alpha" products for the six months ended 30 June 2009 was 47.33% (for the six months ended 30 June 2008: 47.12%).

For the first half of 2009, the major source of our sales growth was the increase in the sales of our sugar-reducing and sugar-free biscuits and drinks, while the principle driving force behind our growth in the second half of the year will be the sales performance of sugar-free mooncakes and drinks. At the end of the second quarter, the Group has taken various initiatives spanning from modification of production equipment, purchasing and storage, financing and marketing to staff training in order to prepare itself for the smooth launch of its major products to the market in the second half of the year.

Distribution and selling

Future Outlook

The importance of the issues of agriculture, farmers and rural areas as weighted by the central government was demonstrated by the issue of the Opinions of the Central Committee and the State Council on Promoting Steady Growth of Agriculture and Continued Increase in Farmers' Incomes in 2009 (《中共中央國務院關於2009年促進農業穩定發展農民續增收的若干意見》), which is the eleventh No. 1 Document of the Central Committee with a theme on the issues of agriculture, farmers and rural areas since the market reforms and opening of the PRC and marks the first time that No. 1 Documents concerning the issues of agriculture, farmers and rural areas were issued in six consecutive years. On 10 May, the State Council further issued the Opinions of the State Council on Maintaining the Agricultural Development and Promoting Farmers' Income Increase (《關於當前穩定農業發展促進農民增收的意見》), which emphasized the state's ever increasing efforts in implementing favorable policies for the farmers to promote their well-being and expanding investments in the rural areas so as to secure a sustainable and prosperous agricultural industry and a more rapid increase in farmers' income. Being the primary industry of the nation, agriculture is related to food supply security and food safety issues in the PRC. Furthermore, increase in farmers' income is one of the crucial elements in the agriculture, farmers and rural areas policies. The fact that fertilizers have long been accounting for about one-third of the total input of agricultural production highlighted the importance of and contributions by fertilizer products.

After the surge in the first quarter, the compound fertilizers market in the PRC slumped with the fall in raw material prices. However, sales of controlled release fertilizers, which have become a new focus in the market, recorded impressive sales despite of the sluggish market situation, and professional controlled release fertilizer producers were running at a higher utilization rate and have increased their capacity. The Group believes that it is critical to improve and develop new product technologies in times of stagnant market so as to achieve growth during adverse time. Driven by the biological technology-oriented "environmental revolution," the organic growth of the agricultural industry has gone beyond chemical agriculture and entered into the stage of biological agriculture. This means that producers of biological compound fertilizers have to adjust their in-house product research and development approach to suit biological agriculture. As domestic professional providers of biological compound fertilizers, scientific fertilizer solutions and services, the subsidiaries of the Group engaging in the biological fertilizers business have always sought to explore and identify key technologies in using fertilizer efficiently, promote their viable efficient applications and introduce our latest technologies and products to the end-users as soon as possible. It is our mission to help users to apply fertilizer more scientifically and efficiently when we sell our products and provide services to them.

In view of the coming implementation of the national standard on controlled release fertilizers, i.e. GB/T23348-2009, on 1 September 2009, the Group will make more efforts in the technological development of future new products and expand investment in and accelerate the research and development of new products, such as new controlled release compound fertilizers, with a view to achieving synergies between our technological edge and brands, and expanding to the high-end market by unremittingly introducing and perfecting new technologies and enhancing the performance of our products.

The early development of sugar-free foods in the PRC was signified by an aim to satisfy the appetite of the diabetes, and the food types were mostly limited to sugar-free biscuits and buckwheat noodles. Driven by economic development and improvement in living quality, people's concept in consuming food has changed significantly and focus has gradually turned to the health impact of foods and drinks, and consumption has shifted from good looking, savoury and tasty foods to functional foods with reasonable nutritional and health benefits. As a result, the variety of sugar-free foods has also developed from sugar-free biscuits at the very beginning to sugar-free mooncakes, drinks, pastries, candies, cereals products, etc. and has gained support from more and more non-diabetics consumers who seek better health. The domestic market for sugar-free foods is expanding rapidly and the market share of sugar-free foods has been growing at double digit per annum. In the second half of the year, the Group will continue to concentrate on meeting the consumption demand during festivals, such as the mid-autumn festival and national day, and maintaining sales growth.

In the coming quarters in 2009, the Group will strive to improve its results of operation and create value for its shareholders amidst adverse market condition.
